I. COMMITMENT FACTORS:

- A. Life Crime: Kidnap per PC 209(b) with a year enhancement per PC 667.5(b) plus a non-controlling case of Assault with a Deadly Weapon per PC 245(a)(1) from Los Angeles County Case #A811397 and (non-controlling) #A807032. Received by CDC on 4/6/87 with a sentence of Life plus one year and an MEPD of 4/4/93. Victim; Kristi Boucher, age unknown.

1. Summary of Crime: On 11/26/85, at approximately 1:15 P.M. while exiting her vehicle at the Wendy's Drive-In Restaurant at 8424 Sepulveda Boulevard in Los Angeles, California, victim Kristi Boucher was physically forced back into her vehicle by co-defendant Michael Murphy. Murphy then struck the victim in the face, demanding money. Victim Boucher advised Murphy that her purse was in the trunk. Murphy warned the victim not to try to get away as "I have a gun and I'll use it." As Murphy was removing the purse from the car trunk, the victim noticed McClore standing at the passenger door watching her. Both suspects then entered the vehicle and forced the victim into the backseat. According to the transcripts, the victim reported that McClore told her "we aren't going to hurt you."

They drove to a shopping mall in San Fernando, where they forced the victim to purchase clothing and shoes for them. They re-entered the car and drove along the freeway, then pulled over. After stealing the victim's jewelry, they pushed the victim out of the vehicle at the side of the road. McClore and Murphy then drove away. Source: POR Pages 2,3; Appellate Decision, February 10, 1988.

2. Prisoner's Version: Mc Clore stated that the above offense summary accurately reflects the recollections of the offense. He further stated that, though he did not immediately know what the problem was, he knew that "Things were not right between the two (Murphy and the victim)." McClore stated that he became aware of what was actually transpiring at the onset of the offense. He stated that he would like the Board to note
